

Be Strong; Be Courageous

About Me

First of all, I don't like talking/writing about myself. I enjoy meeting new people and having new experiences. I am a military spouse and have two children, that take up a lot of my time. Now it is time for me to explore new adventures!

Although I do not have very much computer experience, I do have a customer service background. I enjoy solving problems and making everyone's experience more enjoyable. Joining the UCF Bootcamp, I hope to utilize another avenue to customer service. An avenue that can reach a broader spectrum of people.
